

METHOD OF INCREASING AVIAN SAFETY IN AND AROUND WIND-POWERED ELECTRICITY PRODUCTION FACILITIES

Abstract: A method of preventing bird deaths in wind-powered power plants. The method involves, forcing the birds away from the windmills by means of a strong ultrasonic transducer. Once this is accomplished the perimeter is sealed by motion detectors. If a bird is detected by the detectors, the ultrasonic transducer is activated thereby forcing the bird away from the protected area.